

LOCAL ITEMS.

RAIL.—At several points in the county hail of the size of marbles fell in abundance on Thursday evening.

REVENUE OFFICIALS.—Revenue officials are on the rounds. Keep things in order, for there is no telling when or where they will turn up next.

MATTERS OF RECORD are taken as evidence in Courts of Justice. They are accepted as established facts. Some people, who assume to know a great deal seem not to know this.

Soup.—Call on Virgil Johnson, the famous caterer, one door below Glynburn's block, and get a dish of the best soup you ever saw. He has a recipe of his own that cannot be excelled.

BETTER.—Some of our business men say that trade is better in Camden now than it was at this time last year. Still the times are going to be distressingly tight during the summer, and it behooves every one to anticipate the pressure by preparing for it.

UNION MEETING.—The meeting of the Sumter (Baptist) Union was held at Piggish Church, twelve miles below Camden, last week—beginning Friday and ending on Sunday. Messrs. Thos. W. Pegues, J. W. McCurry, T. A. Moore and C. J. Shiver attended as delegates from the Church in Camden.

RAIN.—After a dry spell of unprecedented duration for the season, this section of country was visited by a delightful rain on Thursday evening. It was not enough for the planters; but, now that April is here, it is hoped that all that was lacking will be made up by spring showers.

FIRE.—Fires are reported to have occurred at many points in the county last week. In a few instances outbuildings were destroyed, but the flames were generally confined to the pine forests, burning up fences, turpentine farms and other property. The losses in some cases are very heavy.

NEW STYLES.—A peep into any of the dry goods houses will reveal the fact that the new styles of spring and summer goods are decidedly attractive. And prices were never lower, or proprietors and clerks more willing and anxious to wait upon customers.

THEY MEAN IT.—A leading colored Radical told a number of gentlemen the other day that his party means to carry the election in Kershaw County next fall, and that they expect to go into the Democratic ranks for voters. Is there a Democrat so base as to desert his colors in the supreme crisis of the State? If so, let his name be known.

OUR RESOURCES.—It is hinted that a number of gentlemen contemplate erecting at an early day an extensive cotton factory in our midst. We are not at liberty to publish names, nor have we conversed with the parties themselves. But, if the report be true, they are the men to carry the thing through to a successful completion.

A BAD COMPLEXION is frequently caused by worms. Shiner's Indian Vermifuge will remedy the whole trouble. Try it. Only 25 cents a bottle.

GRATIFYING.—The manner in which the different clubs throughout the county are wheeling into line for the next campaign must be gratifying to the Democracy at large. The indications are that Kershaw County will come out on the right side in November. But it requires thorough organization and much hard work to do this.

TURPENTINE.—It is thought that some $200,000 worth of turpentine will be produced in this county this year. And the most of it will go by Steamer Lillington to Acton, and thence to Wilmington. Does it not seem that Charleston ought to have all of this trade? If she doesn't get it, it is her own fault.

LARGE ROSEBUSH.—Mr. I. B. Alexander claims to have, just now, the prettiest rosebush in Camden. It is about twenty-two feet high and fifteen feet across; and from an estimate made, there cannot be less than forty thousand roses and buds on it, thus presenting the appearance of an immense bouquet. It is called the Ladybank, or Thornless Rose.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.—Shiner's Indian Vermifuge destroyed and expelled worms where they existed, to the satisfaction of every one who used it. We guarantee it to do the same to-day.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATES.—In his great speech at Anderson the other day, Governor Hampton, whose renomination and re-election to the office he has so brilliantly adorned is now assured, spoke as follows concerning those phenomena in politics, called for short independent candidates: "Independent may be good men, but none of them are good ones." Let those, if there are any, who are ambitious for promotion, and unwilling to bide their time, lay not the flattering unctious to their souls that they are upon the platform with Hampton.

THE SCHEDULE.—We have before alluded to the inconvenience of going to or coming from Columbia in consequence of the unreasonable schedule which is now in operation on the S. C. Railroad. We will now make a suggestion to the authorities, viz: To have the train to leave Camden daily at half past two instead of four o'clock, and thereby make connection with both the up and down trains at Kingsville.

ENTERPRISE INDEED.—The breakdown on the Camden Branch occurred about noon on Thursday. Twenty-eight hours later, or at four o'clock in the afternoon of the following day, the first train left Camden. Besides, we had no mails for forty-eight hours. And all of this delay was due to the fact that an engine had to come from Charleston, as if there was no telegraph wires, or the track on the main line were torn up.

Who can calculate the misery and suffering a child endures that is infested with worms? Would a parent or guardian hesitate a moment to expend 25 cents for a bottle of Shiner's Indian Vermifuge to relieve the little sufferer?

MORTUARY REPORT.From January 1st to April 1st 1878. Number of deaths. S. Whites, 4—3 adults, 1 youth. Colored, 4—3 adults, 2 children.

THE NEWS AND COURIER.—We invite attention to the advertisement of the Charleston News and Courier, which appears elsewhere in this issue. It is the leading newspaper south of the Potomac, and in enterprise and ability is not excelled in America. Being now straight-out to the backbone, and thoroughly in accord with the great masses of the Democratic party, it will be a most powerful advocate of the cause of good government during the coming campaign.

NOT YET DISCOVERED.—It is a lamentable fact that a great many good men, not in the town of Camden alone, but throughout the State and nation, have not yet learned that a public officer is a public servant; and that whenever a person accepts, or becomes a candidate for, a public office he not only lays himself open to, but actually invites public criticism. And it is the province—yes, the duty—of a public newspaper to make such criticism whenever the public interest require that it should be done. And whenever a newspaper fails to do this, it has no claim upon the public for support.

OUR TAXES.—The taxes which the people of Kershaw County will have to pay for the fiscal year 1877-78, are as follows: State, 44 mills; County, 3. School, 2, past indebtedness, 2; total, 11 1/2 mills. Add to this the Bridge tax of 2 mills in Wateree and DeKalb townships, and of 1 mill in Buffalo and Flat Rock townships, and the total tax levied upon the several townships will be ascertained, viz: Wateree, 13 1/2 mills; DeKalb, 13 1/2 mills; Buffalo, 12 1/2 mills, and Flat Rock, 12 1/2 mills—all of which compares most favorably with the levies of previous years.

THE ELECTION.—Yesterday morning bright and early the struggle for the control of Camden for the ensuing twelve months began. Some time before the polls were opened, the friends of the two tickets assembled in force, the object of both parties being to get the start in the race. At six o'clock the voting commenced, and for an hour or two it was nip and tuck with the two tickets. The whippers-in were active, and, if a voter appeared whose mind was not made up, he was taken in and made to cast his ballot, for whom he hardly knew. Thus it continued until the day wore on, and then the work became rather monotonous, the persons voting at this hour being those who were going according to their convictions, and who could not be influenced by the say of any man, or any amount of "greasing." In the main the election, though hotly contested, was the occasion of but little violence. At six in the evening the polls were closed, the votes counted, and the following result announced:

FOR INTENDANT:
D. C. Hollings 156
J. C. Kirkley 187
FOR WARDENS:
S. B. Latham 168
J. L. Brasington 173
Cap. Williams 124
E. H. Dibble 301
J. K. Witherspoon 193
James Jones 200
R. E. Wall 171

Total number of votes cast 345. The Council elect will be inducted into office on Monday next. Among their first acts will be the election of a marshal and recorder, treasurer and policemen. The character of their selections for these offices will be a fair indication of what the new administration will be.

ANOTHER SMASH-UP.—On Thursday considerable uneasiness was manifested on account of the non-arrival of the train, it being ascertained by telegraph that it had left Kingsville on time. Various opinions as to the cause of delay were expressed, but all were glad to hear, about four o'clock in the afternoon, that, though an accident had occurred, no one was hurt. When approaching Boykin's, eight miles below Camden, four cows jumped upon the track where it is crossed by a wagon road, and before the train could be stopped, the engine was upon them. The result was—two cows killed outright, two fatally injured, the engine thrown from the track and the trucks broken. The passengers and others accordingly hired conveyances and made their way to town as best they could, arriving about four o'clock, and bringing the first intelligence of the disaster.

THE PENNY READING.—The entertainment at the residence of Mr. H. Baum, on Wednesday evening, was in every respect a success. The audience was large and appreciative, the music entrancing, the reading and recitations delightfully attractive and appropriate, and the receipts, which were presented to the Cemetery Association, much larger than usual on such occasions. A marked and pleasing feature of the evening were the songs and character representations of Mr. S. D. Epstein, in either of which he was inimitable. The following was the programme:

Solo.—L'Africaine—Miss E. Phillips.
Song.—L'Arditi Waltz—Miss Rosa Baum.
READING.
"The Pic Nic Party"—Gen. J. D. Kennedy.
Music.
Song.—My Queen—Mr. S. D. Epstein.
Duet.—Cavatina—Il Torquato Tasso—Rosellen—Mrs. Alden and Mrs. Hughes.
RECITATION.
"Love in the Kitchen"—Mr. S. D. Epstein.
READING.
"Horatius"—by Macaulay—Dr. S. Baruch.
MUSIC.
Song.—Ellerbe—Miss E. Phillips.
Solo.—Titania—Miss E. Phillips.
READING.
"It Might Have Been"—Col. W. M. Shannon.
MUSIC.
Songs.—Mocking Bird, &c.—Mr. S. D. Epstein.
Song.—"Queen of the Night"—Miss R. Baum.
READING.
"The Confessions of Doctors"—Judge W. Z. Leitner.
MUSIC.
Duet.—La Somnambula—GRAMER—Mrs. Alden and Mrs. Hughes.
RECITATIONS.
"The Bootblacks"—and "True Irishman"—Mr. S. D. Epstein.

SAD DEATH.—It is with feelings of the deepest sadness that we announce the death of Mrs. Emma C. Nelson, the beloved wife of our young friend, James R. Nelson, Esq. She died after a protracted illness at the residence of her mother in Camden, on the night of the 29th of March. She leaves a husband and little daughter and numerous relatives and friends to mourn her death. The entire community sympathize deeply with them in their sore bereavement.

BREVITIES.
The train hands had a pleasant little holiday Saturday.

The Mocking bird may now be heard singing to his mate.

Fishing parties are common. Bait scarce, and big fish scarce still.

The rain Thursday evening was pretty general throughout the country.

There are not many games at which at least two persons cannot play.

The vegetable gardens are more advanced than usual by the first of April.

The month just past was the mildest of its name ever known to many in these parts.

The Democrats of Kershaw county have no faith in independent candidates, and do not mean to tolerate straggling.

Governor Hampton addressed the people of Abbeville on Friday. Wherever he goes, the warmest reception awaits him.

Judge Aldrich will preside at the next term of the Court of General Sessions for this county. And he has the reputation of making the law a terror to evildoers.

The U. S. Court is in session this week in Charleston. Demas went down yesterday with a number of parties from this county charged with retailing whiskey and tobacco without license.

The most enthusiastic Democrats in the county are the poorer class of farmers. They work themselves and know something about the hard times brought upon the country by the Radical party.

Our friends in the country will bear in mind the fact that the JOURNAL is always glad to receive items of interest from them. Send us the news and we will publish it, and give you a good newspaper.

Discontented and demoralized Democrats were to have been found about here and there a few weeks ago, but, having found out how completely they were isolated from the great mass of their brethren, they have gotten straight again "on the goose question," and will now whip any man who dares to say that they have ever been weak in the knees.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Robt. M. Kennedy returned from the north on Thursday. Mr. J. M. Williams was in Charleston last week.

We had the pleasure the other day of meeting in our town Mr. T. Ross Robinson, a young and rising member of the Winnsboro bar.

Mr. Sol. Wolfe, an enterprising young merchant of Winnsboro, and Mr. S. D. Epstein, formerly of the Columbia bar, but now a practicing attorney in New York City, spent a few days in Camden recently.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McLaurin, of Sumter, spent a few days in Camden last week on a visit to relatives.

Maj. John S. Miller, of Chesterfield, was in Camden the other day on his way to Charleston, whither he goes to attend the U. S. Court.

H. Baruch, Esq., is back from the North, and announces in this issue the opening of the cheapest stock of Spring and Summer Goods ever brought to this market.

Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Alexander and their sister, Miss Kate McQueen, who have been spending some time in Camden, returned to Columbia yesterday.

J. T. Hay, Esq., is in Charleston, attending the U. S. Circuit Court.

Mr. J. B. Mobley, of Pleasant Hill, went to Charleston yesterday.

Political Amnesty.

We mentioned in our issue of a few weeks back that the Legislature had authorized the Governor to order indictments in certain cases to be discontinued. This action of the Legislature is being severely criticised, because of its unconstitutionality, and of its manifest injustice. The leaders of the Radical party, whether in State or County politics, who profited by South Carolina's woes, should be brought to trial, convicted, and punished to the fullest extent of the law. Such is the only just course that can be pursued, by showing that he was one of the "lesser lights," claim the right to have any indictment against him discontinued. It is right that all should be punished. The following extract on the subject, which we take from Speight's Daily Newspaper, of Greenville, is particularly savage, but it hits the mark:

"We'll, we like magnanimity and mercy, but we presume this is a master-stroke of policy, and as such, we rise in our place as man and citizen, no less than as a member of the independent press, to reject and denounce it. Reject it first as worthless, and next as wrong—utterly, shamefully wrong. All these men are representative men, and pocketed these spoils, not as instruments of masters, but as their own vice-servers; as thieves and robbers some of them did steal thousands upon thousands. The soft accusation of Col. Sumner is untrue, and we all know it to be so, and the honorable member has been betrayed by the sleek policy of his measure, one that we have no patience with. We know ourselves too well to suspect ourselves for a moment of mean vindictiveness in this matter. We owned too many of such men as these not to feel all the magnanimity and generous mercy belonging to the race. We insist on it, these men are guilty of an enormous crime; they, and such as they, have spoiled our people to beggary, and reduced our mothers and wives and sisters to want and to the wash-tub. By the tears and sorrows of those gentle women we denounce this condemnation of the crime of the spoilers and thieves as being untrue to society, and a solemn farce in the face of the brutal and infamous orgies which have been ground out by the yard by our Fraud Commission. Let these criminals, one and all come to trial, and if the State fails to make a case against them, let it fail. If there can be any of them acquitted, fairly acquitted, let him be. It is his right, and no man should be willing to deprive the humblest citizen of a full, free, honorable acquittal. If they cannot be so acquitted, let them wear the stripes and handle the pick or shovel and go through a penitential probation in the penitentiary or at hard labor. Why should Beverly Nash and others of his ilk walk the streets and ride our thoroughfares with their twenty thousand steals, more or less, and some poor little colored boy who steals a pair of shoes, or a ham, or a brace of chickens, be brought to judgment and imprisoned? Why should our mountain boys be hunted down for violating the revenue laws in making a few gallons of whiskey and tried, convicted and sent to Northern prisons for years, and these villains go unwhipped of justice, because the Charleston representative tells us they were not accountable beings? Unaccountable first! We do not think so when they gave us a Moses and Whipper for Judges, and stole us down to our last shirt. We deny the right of the Legislature to 'authorize and request' the Governor to 'prosecute these cases.' We deny it, as plainly violative of the Constitution."

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Count de Chambord, known as an aspirant for the throne of France under the title of Henri V, has bought a small island in the Eastern Mediterranean for his winter residence, where he can be monarch of all he surveys, with no one to dispute his title.

The News and Courier calls for the prosecution of Chamberlain. We have called for the prosecution of all the head devils until we are hoarse. That Chamberlain is a scoundrel, none conversant with the history of South Carolina will gainsay. The question is whether he sufficiently covered his tracks to escape legal conviction by a mixed jury. The query, "who struck Billy Patterson?" has long been a matter of anxious investigation. Billy's antagonist struck him a—well we won't repeat what sort of a lick, but how, or when, or where has never been satisfactorily settled. Chamberlain bungled up poor old South Carolina pretty badly, but he was just shrewd enough to make a Billy Patterson case of it. The best way of settling with the Gov. defunct, is to hang him "on general principles."—Winnsboro News and Herald.

Commodore John Hodges Graham, United States Navy, died suddenly of apoplexy at his residence in Newburg, N. Y., last week, at the age of eighty-four. He served in the war of 1812, and in November of that year, when aged nineteen, he was a midshipman under Commodore Chauncey on Lake Ontario, and was one of the twelve officers who took part in a midnight expedition against the British strong-hold opposite Black Rock. Nine of the officers were either killed or severely wounded. Young Graham received a wound in the ankle, which subsequently necessitated the amputation of the limb. He had command of the magazine of Commodore McDonough's flagship in the memorable conflict on Lake Champlain. After the war he was principally engaged in shore duty and held the rank of commodore twelve years.

The Supreme Court of the United States decided last Monday, the case of Wm. Godfrey, Receiver, et al., Stockholders of the Merchant's Bank of South Carolina at Cheraw, appellants, vs. Harvey Terry. This case involved the liability of the stockholders of a suspended State bank for the outstanding bills of the bank. The Circuit Court of the United States decided in favor of Terry, and against the stockholders. The Supreme Court has dismissed the bill of the plaintiff, and has placed its decision upon grounds that cover a host of similar cases, and will carry relief to many an anxious household. The Supreme Court holds that the failure of the bank in question occurred at the time of the suspension of specie payments in 1860, and the claims of the billholders are barred by the Statute of Limitations. This is the end of multitudinous suits. It protects the stockholders in all Southern banks which suspended specie payments before the war, and where such stockholders are sued upon the clause in the charters which imposed upon the stockholders a liability (beyond that of corporation) for the bills of the bank, in case of the failure of the bank.

FLAT ROCK, March 25, 1878.
EDITOR JOURNAL.—Please announce that a meeting of Flat Rock Democratic Club will be held on Saturday, April 6th, 1878. A full meeting is earnestly desired. From Tiller's Ferry.

MARCH 26th, 1878.
EDITOR OF THE JOURNAL.—In your issue of last week, I notice an article which states that some of your subscribers, who get their papers at this office, "have complained that they do not get the JOURNAL regularly."

Allow me to say that, since I have been postmaster, the JOURNAL has never once failed to come to Tiller's Ferry; and the mail is always opened, sorted and delivered as soon as possible after its arrival. The JOURNAL, as well as any and all other mail matter, is always delivered promptly and cheerfully when called for. I know not who of your many subscribers could have rendered the complaint, or what motive they had for so doing. I do know, however, that your informant, whoever he may be, did not know whereof he spoke. Otherwise, he would have maliciously sought to create an erroneous impression. I shall always endeavor to discharge the duties of my office in a manner acceptable to our people and the public generally; and I shall also be glad to have my attention called to any oversight in connection with the office.

As the "complaint" was published, you will oblige me by giving my reply a place in your columns.

Very truly yours,
L. FURMAN PERBLES,
P. M. Tiller's Ferry.

(One informant is a gentleman above reproach; and we are satisfied he and others failed to get their papers, and believed it was due to some irregularity in the mails. It gives us pleasure to publish the letter of our friend, the postmaster at Tiller's Ferry. END JOURNAL.)

Granny's Quarter Moving.

Glynburn's store on Saturday, 20th March, 1878, for the purpose of forming a cavalry company and reorganizing the Granny's Quarter Democratic Club. On motion, Mr. J. T. Truesdel was called to the chair, and Mr. G. W. Barnes explained the object of the meeting, after which forty-five names were enrolled in the cavalry company. The meeting then proceeded to the election of officers, which being effected, the Democratic club was then reorganized, and a meeting appointed at the same place, to be held on Saturday, April 13th, at which time the company will drill, and many more names are expected to be added to the list.
